SARDINIÆ REGI

AMEDEUS PEYRON

Cum decessor Tuus rex Carolus Felix, comparato Ægyptio Museo, singulare imperiosae huic civitati ornamentum addiderit, tum id muneris nobis incumbebat, ut quantum studii in novis litterarum opibus proponendis ille posuit, tantumdem nos in iisdem illustrandis collocaremus.

Ita enim Principis in bonas disciplinas providentia, et doctorum civium industria reciprocanda videtur, ut ex utraque splendidius eniteat patrium nomen, atque ad praestantiorum gentium laudes accedat. Quare ex nostris alii alia Ægyptia monumenta certatim ediderunt. Quos ego pro viribus aemulatus graecos Papyros ita enarrandos suscepi, ut quidquid ad Ptolemaeorum tempora, et res, earumque causas pertinebat expromens, syngraphis specie humilibus gloriam celebrationemque conciliare sategerim. Quo labore defunctus animum retuli ad intermissa Ægyptiorum hieroglyphicorum studia. Sed cum probe intelligerem omnem progressum desperandum ei fore, qui a Coptici sermonis notitia esset imparatus, mecum constitui universas illius opes, quas tres dialecti suppeditant, diligenti studio colligere; quod felix faustumque omnibus per Europam Œdipis fore ominabar. Quid enim illis locupleti Coptico lexico destitutis non dicam tentandum, sed factitandum superfuisset? In aliena inventa iurantes illa nec recte aestimassent, nec novis accessionibus auxissent; vel intentatas vias sine certo duce experti erroribus errores cumulassent.

Jam septimus ab opere inchoato mihi effluxerat annus, cum seu longi laboris pertaesus, seu nulla libri edendi praesidia prospiciens, animo quasi despondebam; sed opportune Tua, Rex Auguste, in litteras fovendas propensio, Tuumque patrocinium intercessit. Vix enim intellexi meum de Coptico lexico concinnando consilium Tibi ita probari, ut etiam indulgeres Tuo nomini inscribi, animum recipiens eo maiore diligentia congestam materiam retractavi, novamque collegi, quo magis sentiebam augusto auspicio pro dignitate esse respondendum. Ac cumulatissime respondissem, si res non ex ingenii viribus, sed ex animi in Te mei alacritate, praestanda fuisset. De illo iudicent docti. Animum vero in Te obsequentissimum nisi haberem, beneficiorum immemor ingratusque essem. Sed ne unius mei causa mea in Te observantia videatur esse suscepta, dicam quod res est, quodque sentimus omnes optimarum disciplinarum cultores.

Vix thronum conscenderas, atque inter tot curas, quibus animum impertiri necesse erat, id in primis publice testatum voluisti, doctrinam et scientias in gradu equestris dignitatis, novo apud nos exemplo, collocari. Faustissimum omen prolixae Tuae in litteras voluntatis ceperamus, quando non una significatione contentus novum equestrem ordinem creas, quo homines summo ingenio, qui de artibus studiisque pacis optime sint meriti ex iudicio sapientum, honestentur. Ita ne nostrates aut suorum Principum invitamentis tardi respondent, aut gloriae stimulis non tanguntur, ut novis laudis insignibus eos irritandos esse existimares? Nostrae ne peregrinabantur aures, cum vix rerum summam adeptus multa ad rem litterariam pertinentia sanciebas, ut Tuum patrocinium iterum inculcandum esse iudicares? Scilicet volebas ita saeculo satisfacere, ut eius vitium emendares, tum de propenso Tuo studio omne dubium exemptum esse. Enimvero omnes, neque immerito, sciti esse volumus multaque doctrina exculti, ita fert praepotens temporum vis, cui nemo obniti valeat, at nonnulli praepostere ambitiosi auctoritatem pati detrectant; quare Tu, prudentissimo consilio, et scientiis gratificari, atque has cum auctoritatis imperio coniungere constituisti. Sane Musas ducit Apollo, et Musageti praeest Olympius. Spectaculum oppido iucundissimum! In tot Europae motibus atque anxietatibus, in quibus omnes e re sua aestimantes studia, ea vel blanda facilitate enervant, vel callide ludificantur, vel ad unam praesentem utilitatem traducunt, ne dicam iis turpissime abuti, nobis ornatissimam pacem agentibus cum dignitate et Musis licet esse castissimis Pulchri et Veri amatoribus. Tu quippe in Pulchro et Vero, quae maxima Tui laus est, regni Tui columen collocasti. Semel ac vero patuit Te id constituisse, ut pacis artibus, civili sapientia, atque omnigena doctrina Tuum patriaeque nomen amplificares, incredibile dictu est quanta alacritate privati quique Tua vota obsecundantes aut eximiis novarum opum accessionibus publica instituta ac musea ditaverint, aut doctis elucubrationibus scientiarum fines proferre contenderint. Atque alii quidem, quibus maior et doctrinae et ingenii vis contigit, alia Tibi graviora et maioris operae inscripserunt; ego autem diffisus quicquam a me expromi posse, quod sententiarum luminibus splendens meum Tibi gratificandi animum adaequet, illud opus Tibi offero, quod ostentationis nihil, plurimum tamen utilitatis habet. Operum fastigia spectantur, sua tamen laus manet fundamenta, quae latent. A te igitur, Principum decus, etiam atque etiam peto, ut qua humanitate me honoribus auxisti, eadem meum hunc laborem, qui nulla re magis, quam Tui nominis auctoritate nixus in publicum prodit, accipiendum putes. Quod si aliquam diligentiae laudem apud philologos consequar, magnopere velim, ut sciant, me Tibi bonorum studiorum auspici et patrono plurimum debere, eaque observantia addictum esse, qua litteras ipsas prosequor, quibus me meaque devovi.

Dabam Augustae Taurinorum idibus aprilis MDCCCXXXV.

LECTORI

Ad linguam Copticam accesseram vixdum adolescens, qua aetate ingenium multivolum multiplicis etiam scientiae cupiditate flagrans varias pertentat ac delibat doctrinas; vocabula colligebam, quae suas ad radices revocare conabar, grammaticae rationes expendebam, ac maiora tentassem, nisi expertus vidissem tam bonas horas vix cum aliquo emolumento compensari, quod ad liberales disciplinas, vel altiorem eruditionem pertineret. Quare contentus linguae indolem explorasse destiti ab incoepto, ac litterarum Copticarum quasi immemor ad alias atque alias longe amoeniores utilioresque me converteram, quando fama hieroglyphicae scripturae tandem aliquando enodatae me commovit. Cum enim audissem, quod animo iam praeceperam, multum esse praesidii in Coptico sermone ad hieroglyphica aenigmata solvenda, animum ad eum retuli, ac, priscis commentariis a pulvere detersis, veteribusque notionibus iterum excitatis, rem Copticam recognoscebam, simulque cum hieroglyphica consociabam. Sed rursus animum demisi quum fando accepi Champollionium longo studio locupletissimum sibi Lexicon Copticum confecisse. Ita ne, aiebam, actum agam, atque opus iam praelo fortasse paratum ipse ex integro aggrediar? Inter haec dubitanti mihi Augustam Taurinorum supervenit Champollionius, qui sui suorumque laborum aestimator aequissimus candide fassus est, se quidem Lexicon in suos usus parasse, sed quod multo opere, multoque delectu ac iudicio adhuc indigebat, ut purgatum atque absolutissimum in publicum prodire posset. Enumerabat mihi libros sibi aut non perlectos, aut peculiaribus in locis tantum delibatos; rariores verborum constructiones non semper adnotatas; particulas, praepositiones non bene enucleatas; addebat congestam materiam novo iudicio esse purgandam, tum ordine disponendam; quae omnia tantum temporis atque otii deposcebant, quantum ipse nollet demere a rei hieroglyphicae studio, in quo illustriorem palmam se fore consecuturum confidebat. Hinc hortari me, ut lexicon linguae Copticae ex integro condendum susciperem, dubitantem, ac tam ingratum opus deprecantem allicere, impellere, suaque auctoritate acuere, dixerim etiam precibus. Si enim, aiebat, lexicon meo studio concinnatum prodeat, quod cum rationibus hieroglyphicis apprime consentiat, non deerunt obtrectatores, qui Coptica verba, eorumque notiones, dicent me non expressisse cum fide, sed e re hieroglyphica callide detorsisse. Me tandem vicit male pertinacem; de scopo, de methodo, de ordine lexici multa disputavimus; manum operi admovi, post integrum decennium absolvi. Non dicam quoties calamus manu exciderit, oscitantiam ac somnum obrepentem excusserim; libros expilare sola vocabula conquirendo, quae grammatico scalpro seces, est opus negotiosum, et molestiarum oppido plenissimum, at in eos libros bilustri studio incumbere, qui omni lepore destituti aut veterem crambem male recoquant, aut novitatem praeseferant saepe absurdam, id demum est supplicium adeo exquisitum, quod Horatius, si novisset, parricidae haud dubitasset pro allio cicutis nocentiore decernere. Perfeci tandem aliquando, ad umbilicum perduxi. Atque utinam tibi, quo auspicante iniquum suscepi laborem, eundem iam absolutum pro munere offerre, simulque tuo judicio superbissimo probare possem! Sed quando te ad maiora usque connitentem mors cita confecit, atque excelsas, quas de te conceperamus, spes praecidit, hoc unum mihi superest, ut te, tua consilia, atque incitamenta cum multo grati animi sensu commemorans nominis tui memoriam consecrem; sique aliena laude crescere potes, tecum, quicumque mihi erit partus honor, eum sancte atque amice communicem.

Copticum, quod adhuc in lucem prodiit, Lexicon illud est La-Crozii a Christiano Scholzio editum cum notis Woidii. In eo Basmurica dialectus omnino desideratur; sexdecim pagellis concluditur quidquid est dialecti Sahidicae; Memphitica vero pars solas refert voces, neque tamen omnes, quae in Pentateucho, in Psalmis, atque in Novo Testamento occurrunt, quibus accedunt nonnulla vocabula ex libris liturgicis decerpta. Quis dicat La-Crozii opus universum Coptici sermonis ambitum esse complexum? Scilicet primum fuit lexici condendi tentamen; primum, inquam, quae maxima est laus, at imperfectum, adeoque retractandum ac novis philologorum studiis supplendum. Accedit quod nullae appareant etymologiae, nullae radices, sed pari ordine alphabetico stirpes, juxta ac derivata, proponantur. Sive igitur methodum consideremus, sive absentiam multarum vocum, et duarum dialectorum, Lexicon La-Crozii nequibat Copticae linguae opes referre, atque ad Pharaonum sermonem nobis aditum patefacere. Quare novum lexicon erat condendum.

In eo concinnando quem scopum mihi proposuerim, quem ordinem sim secutus, eo accuratius mihi explicandum est, quo magis nova libri forma ab illa La-Crozii omnino abscedens facile philologis admirationem movebit. Paucis dicam, me eo spectasse, ut lexicon opportunum philologis, qui Copticae linguae cognitionem sibi comparare volunt, maxime utile foret iis, qui praeterea rem hieroglyphicam ex penitiore Copticarum dialectorum studio, communique origine, explicare aggrediuntur. Si enim solam spectassem utilitatem illorum, qui intra angustos litterarum Copticarum fines desidere amant, vereor, ne parum utilem, ac quasi poenitendam operam navassem. Enimvero quid tandem praeseferunt Coptici libri? Ecclesiae Patrum sermones saepe saepius spurios; perpaucos vero genuinos rectius et facilius legas in graeca veritate. Fragmenta historiae ecclesiasticae, et conciliorum, quorum sincerae partes multis graecis in libris prostant vulgatissimae. Martyrum acta, quae qui edat, is aquam ad mare feret; spuria, ac putidis fabulis interspersa, cuiusmodi multa legi, non moror. Tractationes morales de virtutibus et vitiis, rem non acu et philosophice attingentes, sed mysticas, et crebris anachoretarum exemplis, ceu luminibus, illustratas. Accedunt liturgiae saepe editae, libri apocryphi Novi Testamenti, non primigenii illi a Gnosticis Ægyptie scripti, sed e graeco conversi. Postremos dignitatis causa nomino libros cum Veteris, tum Novi Foederis, in quibus haud diffiteor multum esse adiumenti ad textum codicis Alexandrini recte constituendum. Contractis hisce terminis universa concluditur Coptica litteratura, quae a Thebaidis monachis profecta atque exculta nunquam laurae claustrum excessit. Quantum monachi in bonis disciplinis excolendis inclaruerint scimus omnes, sed in Europa, atque in Asia, itemque post primum et alterum a vita anachoretica instituta saeculum tantam sibi nominis famam pepererunt. Sed cum istis comparandi non sunt nec prisci, nec Thebaidenses monachi. Nam qui primi rerum humanarum pertaesi deserta loca petierunt, ut ibi sancta caperent oblivia vitae, non litterarum cultum sibi proposuerant, sed unum Deum, in cuius meditatione animum defigerent. Quod si progressu temporis se ad scientiarum studia contulerunt, id factum esse dixerim ex afflatu non solum finitimarum regionum, sed etiam ipsius, quam usurpabant, linguae; Graecus enim et Latinus monachus, seu quia graece vel latine loquebatur, seu quia identidem civitates adibat, quae multas meliorum temporum memorias servabant, nequibat, quin veteres easque optimas litteras, neque homine Christiano indignas cognosceret, ac coleret. Contra Ægyptus, si Alexandriam excipias, longe aberat a scito cultu; Ægyptiae vero litterae nihil Thebaidensi homini proponebant, nisi superstitionem, cui valedixerat, et Sacerdotum doctrinas, a quibus se abdicaverat. Nihil igitur erat in Ægypto, quod monachum ad bonas artes excolendas invitaret. Quare coenobitae Thebaidis maxima floruerint in Deum pietate, at quin doctrina inclarescere potuerint, uti graeci ac latini, omnino vetuit cum vetus, tum nova Ægyptus. Quidquid velificari poterat effusae in Deum religioni scientia destitutae, atque animo prodigiosa consectanti, id in primis amabant anachoretae Ægyptii, ac ceteris, quae graviter et probabiliter essent scripta, longe praeferebant. Hinc spurias narrationes, utpote monstris ac portentis plenas, praeoptare; genuinos Patrum sermones, quia prudenter scriptos, minoris facere; non temporum rationem, non historiae veritatem revereri. Quot ego vidi in Copticis codicibus e graeco conversa seu Martyrum acta, seu Patrum alloquia, quae commune criticorum indicium explosit! Vidi Ignatium Antiochensem Episcopum multa Romae disputantem cum Traiano; at Traianus post Parthicam expeditionem numquam Romam rediit. Vidi Constantinum anno 365 in vivis agentem

Hierosolymae Judaeos acri persecutione ad tormenta, ad mortem deposcere, hortatu sororis Eudoxiae, virginis sanctissimae, per me enim licet, sed mitissimam neutiquam dixerim. Pudet cetera vel absurda, vel impia, vel frigida percensere. Ita ne ego bilustri studio lexicon adornarem, ut philologi tandem aliquando cum nausea pervolvere possent quae ego stomachans sensim ac syllabatim legebam? Cum velim, ut omnes pari vitae innocentia emineant, ac boni Thebaidis incolae, tum auguror parcos atque infrequentes fore doctos viros, qui Coptica litteratura illecti in eius fines ita se detrudant, ut nihil supra cogitent. Coptici sermonis studium nihil est, nisi praeparatio ac vestibulum doctrinae hieroglyphicae, ad quam debemus eniti; quare lexicon ita erat condendum, ut opportunum philologis, dum Coptice student, maximam iisdem polliceretur utilitatem, cum ad implexas hieroglyphicae sphingis siglas progressi eas ex intima linguae scientia, atque ultimis originibus erunt soluturi. Davus sum, non OEdipus, aiebat ille; OEdipi sumus, non Davi, aiunt docti per Europam philologi, qui non Shenudii epistolas, sed Pharaonum monumenta ope lexici Coptici interpretanda secum constituerunt.

Video me pro certo posuisse, quod a nonnullis dubitatum est, Copticam linguam ad Ægyptiam, atque ad hieroglyphicorum interpretationem nos manuducere; scilicet expertus id affirmo post Champollionium, ac possem adductis argumentis demonstrare, nisi disputatio me longe a proposito abduceret. Quod si nonnulli dubitarunt, vereor, ne ii aut multam in hieroglyphicis operam posuerint, aut Coptice sciant probabiliter. Saltem ego nonnullos huius sententiae refragatores audivi, qui nec panem nec betam lingua Pachomii nominare sciebant, aut verbum substantivum certo spiritu recitare; quorum ego impudentiam miratus essem, nisi alios audissem de re oeconomica disputantes, arithmeticae tamen ignaros. Est, est, inquam, in sermone Antonii multum momenti ad hieroglyphica Pharaonum declaranda.

Quod si in Coptico lexico condendo prospiciendum erat utilitati philologorum, qui hieroglyphica sunt tractaturi, illud ita erit concinnandum, ut ad suas radices omnia vocabula revocet, et vocales litteras non primo, sed secundo loco habeat. Paucis; Copticum lexicon ad radices est exigendum, tum vocales minimi facere debet. Quod paullo latius explicare iuvat.

Coptica lingua illa dicitur, quam Ægyptii saeculis Christianis usurpabant; Ægyptia vero quae Pharaonum et Ptolemaeorum aetate frequentabatur. Jam vero nemo ab illa ad istam assurgere poterit, nisi radices, fontes, atque origines ipsas Copticas apprime perspectas habeat; ad haec linguae indolem atque analogiam optime cognoscat. Cum enim linguae in dies mutentur, tum mutationes maxime afficere solent formas, minimum vero radicem ac stirpem, nedum analogiam perimant. Quod exemplo linguae Gothicae nuperrime demonstravit Octavius Castillionaeus inedita Ulphilae fragmenta edens: vix unum, ait Vir Cl.^{us} (*), aut alterum superest linguae Gothicae vocabulum, cui aliud affine aut in recentioribus Germanicis dialectis, aut saltem in vetustiorum reliquiis, non inveniatur. Cuius propositionis demonstratio luculentissima prostat in Gothico glossario, quod Vir Teutonice doctissimus edidit; in eo enim singula vocabula aliis seu vetustiorum, seu recentiorum dialectorum vocibus illustrata leges. Paria dixerim de lingua Provinciali ex sequioribus dialectis explicanda. Quid plura? Nonne, si linguae Hebraicae lexico careremus, Mosem tamen recte interpretaremur, adhibitis ceteris Semiticis dialectis? At in hac vetustiorum linguarum cum recentioribus comparatione, non formae nominum, aut declinationes, non vocum compositio, aut inflexiones verborum, non denique minuta quaevis accidentia simul conferenda sunt, sed ex analogia, ac radicibus res est decernenda. Ad radices igitur, quas nemo constituet nisi ex analogia linguae, lexicon Copticum est digerendum.

Atqui sermo Copticus adeo regulam servat, ut suas radices non dicam patiatur longo studio investigari, sed ultro offerat. Enimvero in eo radix variis particulis, seu praefixis, seu suffixis comitata varias subinde easque certissimas induit significationes, quin in particulis cum stirpe consociandis aliqua, nisi raro, interveniat crasis, aut thmesis, vel alia grammaticae figura. Omnia circino, atque ad amussim ita sunt composita, ac commensurata, ut Coptica dialectus non a poëtis, aut ab oratoribus, illustribusve historicis, sed a severis geometris regulae assuetis profecta, ac propagata fuisse videatur. Quod si verum est, ut obiter dicam, certissime denuntio nulla carmina, nullam prosam orationem paullo praestantem apud Ægyptios inventum iri; neque enim aut poësis, aut grandior oratio esse potest, quin simul sive metri, sive rhythmi gratia angulatae formae dialecti collidantur, ac rotundentur. Sacerdotibus Ægyptiis piaculum fuisse carmina condere perhibet Dion Chrysostomus; Sacerdotes nunquam populo permisisse scientias tradunt omnes; scripturae genus saepius ideas, quam vocum sonos, repraesentans vix conducebat metri, aut numeri subtilitatibus scripto exprimendis. Jam cum nulla perpolita prosa oratio esse possit, nisi post excultam poësim, cum litterae et scientiae deflorescant, nedum auctus sumant, ubi sunt singulare alicuius ordinis privilegium, equidem auguror, nos in Ægyptiis monumentis nihil scitum aut elegans esse inventuros, sed theogoniam, religiones, annalia, inscriptiones, syngraphas, omnia ieiuna et squallida oratione exposita. Nilus Ægyptios cogebat esse geometras, cum geometria cohaerent artes, quae solae populo permittebantur; ergo Ægyptias litteras auguror fore geometricas, cuiusmodi est sermo Copticus, ipsaeque artes non adeo pulchri sensum, quam geometriam praeseferre videntur. Malum omen avertat ter maximus Thoth! Sed maxime vereor, ne non vatem infaustum agam, bene vero philosophum, qui effectus cum causis prudenter consociet.

Meliora verba daturus redeo ad stirpes Copticas, quas cum quisque in grammatica mediocriter versatus facile detegere queat, pudor fuisset illas respuere. Nonne dialectorum Semiticarum lexica amamus, quae verba ad suas radices, tamquam rivulos ad fontes revocant? Nonne Henricum Stephanum optime de graeca lingua meritum fuisse iudicamus, quippequi primus voces derivatas, aut compositas, ad suas origines reducere sategit? Dolebant docti Batavi ob desertam Stephani methodum philologos ab interiori linguae graecae cognitione avocatos fuisse ad facilitatem Schrevelii atque Hederici oppido blanditam. Sed rem pressius agamus. Curnam in recentiorum linguarum lexicis derivata perinde ac radices pari ordine alphabetico proponuntur? Quia linguae hodiernae ex elementis diversi generis coaluerunt, tum ex maximo usu simulque abusu analogiam etiam in vocibus seu formandis, seu diducendis, sunt praetergressae; hinc radices cum multiplicandae, tum saepe ex aliis linguis arcessendae essent; hinc in radicum investigatione certae regulae figi nequirent. E contrario in lexicis dialectorum Semiticarum methodum etymologicam sequimur, quia istae propriis, non adscititiis creverunt opibus; hinc relationes, quae inter derivata et radicem intercedunt, constantes sunt, et ratae; in qua certa proportione exponenda universum grammaticae officium continetur. Addunt nonnulli in dialectis Semiticis ob vocalium absentiam derivata propius admoveri ad stirpes, remque omnem solis consonis confici. Quibus reponerem graecum lexicon, in quo maxime dominantur vocales, rectissime tamen ad etymologias revocari; praeterea in Semiticis linguis saepe consonas ipsas aut quiescere, aut excidere. Quare absentia vocalium tanti facienda non est, quanti analogiae constantia ex elementis omnino homogeneis existens. Quae cum ita sint, utri tandem generi accensenda est Coptica lingua? Si inter Copticas voces numeras quotquot ex graeca lingua saepissime, quandoque vero ex Arabica, et raro ex Persica mutuatae in codicibus maxime Memphiticis leguntur, fateor elementa linguae esse heterogenea, adeoque alphabeticam methodum esse praeferendam. At quis unquam sanae mentis in Copticum lexicon inducendas esse decernat graecas voces Memphitica civitate donatas? Adeo illae graecae sunt, ut graecam faciem, ac desinentiam servent. Arabica vero, et Persica vocabula utpote rara nullum momentum habere debent in methodo lexici constituenda; suis quaeque locis, instar radicum, recenseantur. Supersunt igitur digerendae Copticae voces ab exoticis quibusque elementis discretae. Atqui aio, et centies repetam, relatio inter radicem, et derivata facilius ac splendidius enitet, quam in dialectis Semiticis; nullae excidunt litterae, aut quiescunt, rarae sunt grammaticae figurae; ad haec vocales possunt, immo debent negligi. Ergo nulla alia methodus deligenda esse videbatur, nisi illa radicum etymologica.

Quod dum constituo, aio etiam radicum investigationem nimium non esse urgendam, quod Dammius fecit in Lexico Homerico. Qui enim ultimas etymologias consectatur, is prono tramite in latissimos coniecturarum campos decurrit, ingeniosas subtilitates uti veras tradit; unde fit, ut in lexico ad origines longe petitas ordinato nemo expiscare possit ullum vocabulum, nisi prius illud quaerat in indice annexo; in quam reprehensionem incurrit Dammius. Argutae originum subtilitates tradantur in scholis, atque in auctoribus interpretandis adhibeantur, at in lexico ordinando nullam vim et auctoritatem habeant; solas sequamur evidentes etymologias, quae ex grammatica sponte efflorescunt. Fuerint monosyllabae, quod Champollionius affirmabat, primigeniae stirpes Copticae; contendo tamen a lexicographo linguam proponendam esse uti est, non uti coniectando auguramur fuisse, atque adeo non coniecturales, sed veras radices in libris obvias exhibendas esse. Si eiusmodi stirpes figantur, quae certum habeant in grammatica fundamentum, studiosus quisque facile derivata sub suis radicibus quaeret, tum futura lexica ad methodum etymologicam ordinata haud multum a meo abscedent; sin origines curiosa subtilitate acuimus, ut sciti videamur, male studiosis consulimus, tum lexica a se ipsis dissentient. Sed longe probabilius mihi verendum est, ne in illorum reprehensionem incurram, qui grammaticae ignari cum velint in tanta studiorum hieroglyphicorum celebritate suam de iis proferre sententiam, meum lexicon improbabunt, utpote sibi impervium, quod frustra pervolvent unam aut alteram voculam perquisituri. Quid iis reponam? Dicam quod sentio; gaudeo vehementer me praetermisisse commoda illorum, quibus maxima sapientia foret prudens silentium. Arrideat illis blanda La-Crozii methodus alphabetica; equidem maxime probo Horatianum illud, tenerae nimis mentes asperioribus formandae studiis. Gratificaturus tamen tironibus, qui nimia difficultate non sunt deterrendi, saepe veluti radices admisi illa vocabula, quorum origo haud facile obvia negotium facessere potuisset, tum monui ubi voces illae essent quaerendae. Qua ratione me exemi ab officio contexendi indicis vocum omnium Copticarum, quod de graecis praestiterunt Henricus Stephanus, et Scapula. Quorsum enim indicem infarcivissem vocabulis, quorum origo insignis est ad oculos?

Sin paullo abstrusior, vocabulum suo loco recensetur, addita radice in qua quaerendum est. Eadem in tirones indulgentia permotus nolui ad suas stirpes revocare omnia verba ab initio aucta vel littera ⲧ pro † dare, vel ϣ intensivo, et his similia; argui inconstantiae malui, quam iusto asperior videri. Ceterum radices ordine alphabetico disposui, sub radicibus vero derivata, et composita; prima veniunt simplicia neque initio neque in fine ullis aucta litteris, tum servato alphabeti iure sequuntur cetera.

Confeci, ni fallor, lexicon Copticum digerendum esse ad methodum etymologicam; superest, ut demonstrem quod secundo loco posui, vocales litteras minimi esse faciendas. Primum ipse vel adolescens videram; alterum de vocalium aestimatione acceptum refero Champollionii consiliis.

Experientia textuum hieroglyphicorum constat a vocabulis Ægyptiis phonetice scriptis vocales saepe abesse; ergo philologi interpretaturi voces solis consonis scriptas illo lexico opus habent, in quo proximae cohaereant radices omnes ex datis consonis coalescentes. Hieroglyphicae siglae, ut afferam exemplum, tibi exhibent ⲡϫ; hoc non alia ratione recte interpretaberis, nisi sub oculos habeas radices, ac voces omnes, in quibus consonae ⲡϫ cum vocalibus et diphthongis componuntur; habebis porro, si in lexico cohaereant radices et voces ⲡⲁϫ, ⲡⲉϫ, ⲡⲏϫ, ⲡⲟϫ, ⲡⲟⲩϫ, ⲡⲱϫ etc.; cohaerebunt vero, si lexicon ad solas consonas sit ordinatum. Quae interpretandi difficultas longe maior evadit, si altera ex consonis una sit ex iis, quae facile permutantur. Fac te in textu hieroglyphico legisse ϭⲧ, cum scias litteram ϭ coptice etiam facile permutari cum affinibus ⲟⲩ et ϥ, merito suspicaris vocem illam coptice fuisse scriptam non solum litteris ϭⲧ, sed etiam proximis ⲟⲩⲧ, ϥⲧ; quare possibiles omnes litterarum ϭⲧ, ⲟⲩⲧ, ϥⲧ compositiones cum vocalibus et diphthongis tibi perquirendae sunt in lexico, antequam prudens de voce iudicium feras. Quî autem facile perquires, si ordinem alphabeticum etiam in vocalibus secutus tanto intervallo ϭⲁⲧ disiecissem a ϭⲱⲧ, quanto ⲁ distat ab ⲱ? Finge carmina Homeri ad nos ita pervenisse, ut rarae in iis appareant vocales, quaeso, quod tandem lexicon magis opportunum iudicas eiusmodi carminibus interpretandis?

Illud, quod ad solas consonas sit ordinatum, ac subinde exhibeat quasi species vocabula omnia, quae iisdem quidem constant consonis, sed variant in vocalibus. Atqui in textibus hieroglyphicis infrequentes sunt vocales; atqui lexicographus Copticus potissimum consulere debet commodis doctorum, qui hieroglyphica sunt enarraturi. Ergo consonas uti genera aestimavi, vocales uti species, in quas genera dividuntur; cum in generibus, tum in speciebus ordinandis immota alphabeti iura reveritus sum. Sic, datis consonis ϣⲡ, primo loco posui ϣⲡ, secundo ϣⲁⲡ, tum ϣⲉⲡ, ϣⲏⲡ, ϣⲟⲡ, ϣⲟⲟⲡ, ϣⲱⲡ; sequuntur radices in fine auctae aliqua vocali, ϣⲓⲙⲉ, ϣⲓⲙⲓ, ϣⲱⲙⲉ, ϣⲱⲙⲓ, ϣⲱⲱⲙⲉ. Quare vocabula, ex. gr. ⲕⲁⲧⲁⲗⲏ, ⲕⲁⲧⲃⲁⲗ, ϫⲉⲙⲫⲉⲕ etc. ita quaere, ac si solis consonis ⲕⲧⲗ, ⲕⲃⲗ, ϫⲙⲫⲕ etc. scripta essent. Neque est quod dicam iura vocalium sancte fuisse servata, quoties illae erant initio vocum; hinc vocabula ⲁⲙⲁⲗⲏϫ, ⲁⲡⲁⲡⲁⲓ, ⲉⲓⲟⲧⲗ, ⲉⲓⲁⲧ, ⲓⲁⲙ, ⲟⲩⲙⲟⲧ, ⲟⲩⲟⲡ, ⲟⲩⲡⲁⲙ etc. quaere quasi essent ⲁⲙⲗϫ, ⲁⲡⲡ, ⲉⲗ, ⲉⲧ, ⲓⲙ, ⲟⲩⲧ, ⲟⲡ, ⲟⲡⲙ etc. Tandem in vocibus, quae ex solis vocalibus coalescunt, primam vocalem ratam habui, uti species sequuntur aliae cum aliis vocalibus compositae; sic initio litterae ⲁ habes continuo ordine ⲁ, ⲁⲁ, ⲁⲉⲓⲱ, ⲁⲓ, ⲁⲓⲁⲓ, ⲁⲟⲩⲱ, ⲁⲩ, ⲁⲩⲱ, tum incipit ⲁⲃ; pariter in littera ⲟ statim habes ⲟ, ⲟⲓ, ⲟⲩ, ⲟⲩⲁ, ⲟⲩⲁⲁ, ⲟⲩⲁⲉ, ⲟⲩⲁⲓ etc., tandem venit ⲟⲃ; et sic de ceteris vocibus, quae ex solis vocalibus coalescunt.

Ordinem, quem in lexico digerendo secutus sum, seclusis vocalibus, explicavi; sed audio quod dicant. Ergo tu vocalium omnium iugulator analogiam linguae Copticae conturbasti, indolem peremisti, aliamque nobis obtrudis ab ea, quae revera est. Ego ne conturbavi? peremi? Immo illustravi; immo analogiae linguae sum obsecutus, indolem evidentius expressi, atque omnino contendo te nihil in Coptico sermone intellecturum esse, si universas eius vocales revereris iuxta ac consonas. Age, quid tandem notant verba ⲉⲣ, ⲣ̄, ⲉⲓⲣⲉ, ⲉⲓⲣⲓ, ⲓⲣⲓ? Valent facere. Quid ⲉⲓ, ⲓ̄, ⲉⲓⲙⲉ, ⲉⲓⲙⲓ, ⲓⲙⲓ? Venire, ire. Quid ⲙⲁϥ, ⲙⲟϥ, ⲙⲟⲥⲧⲉ, ⲙⲉⲥⲧⲱ, ⲙⲉⲥⲧⲉ? Odisse. Ita ⲡⲟⲩⲉⲙ, ⲡⲟⲧⲩⲉⲙ, ⲡⲁⲩⲙ, ⲡⲉⲩⲙ notant servare; uti ⲡⲉϫ, ⲗⲏϫ, ⲡⲟϫ, ⲡⲟⲧϫ, ⲡⲟⲧϫⲉ iacere. Unde nam tanta scribendi varietas in vocalibus, quin significatio mutetur? Quia vocales ad radicem non pertinent; radices vero positae sunt in solis consonis ⲣ, ⲡ, ⲙⲉⲧ, ⲡⲉⲙ, ⲡⲁ — Reponis; atqui vocales saepe formam et notationem verbi afficiunt; ita ⲡⲟⲉⲙ est forma verbi absoluta, ⲡⲁⲉⲙ forma cum suffixis constructa; in ⲡⲟⲁ habes formam activam, in ⲡⲏⲁ passivam — Aio rem non ita semper se habere, ac persaepe ⲡⲏⲁ idem esse atque activum ⲡⲉⲁ perperam elemento ⲏ ab imprudentibus amanuensibus scriptum. Sed indulgentissime largiar quod affirmas. Ergo ne quia vocales in Semiticis dialectis non raro inter se distinguunt formas absolutas, constructas, activas, et passivas unius eiusdemque radicis, ad haec discriminant varias coniugationes Kal, Pinel, Punal, lexica Hebraica atque Arabica imprudenti consilio ad sòlas consonas ordinantur? Quia tres consonae דבר pro diversis vocalibus notant duxit, ducens, locutus est, dictum est, verbum, pestis, censes ne vocales hebraicas tanti esse aestimandas, quanti consonas? Vocales discriminant dialectos, tamen Henricus Stephanus tot radices non admisit, quot ex variatis vocalibus existunt formae vocum. Paucis; sermonis Coptici natura non differt ab illa dialectorum Semiticarum, ergo lexica paria esse debent. In iis vocales vel sunt radicales, vel non. Si ad radicem non pertineant, neque est cur de iis omissis conqueraris, omittendae enim erant; si vero pertinent, eae inter consonas conspicuae apparent sub ementita forma litterarum אוי. Persimili modo apud Coptos radix ⲯⲗⲉ vocalibus caret, quia nullas habet proprias, uti facile ex derivatis ⲯⲟⲗⲉ, ⲯⲱⲗⲉ, ⲯⲗⲉⲉ, ⲯⲗⲏⲉ intelligitur. Radices vero ⲙⲁⲧⲁⲧ, ⲙⲟⲩⲧ, ⲙⲱⲓⲧ ideo vocales ostentant, nec in unam radicem ⲙⲧ compingi possunt, quia vocales ad radicem spectant, uti sive ex varia earum significatione, sive ex derivatis colligitur. Quoties igitur vocales sunt radicales eas certissimo in radice ipsa reperies, nequibam enim eas expellere; sin secus, eas ex radice extrusi quando alicuius textus lectio, ut aiunt, defectiva mihi suppetebat; in radice exhibui, si nulla mihi demtae vocalis suffragaretur auctoritas. Rem tamen ita secum reputent tirones. Coptici sermonis natura ita comparata est, ac si, omnibus absentibus vocalibus, solae inter consonas adsint litterae אוי, uti in linguis Semiticis, quae incertarum vocalium praesentiam testantur, atque inter se ad statas regulas commutari solent. Sic radices ⲕⲉⲉ rumpere, et ⲕⲱⲉ aemulari, solis vocalibus invicem distinctas, scriptas reputo pro ⲁⲓ, et ⲁϩ. Quod adeo verum est, ut in scriptura phonetica tres tantum litterae vocales appareant, quas Champollionius cum elementis אהי merito comparavit. Cum itaque vocales ad essentiam linguae Copticae non pertineant, eas minimi ego faciens radices in lexico ordinavi ad consonas, ita ut consonae constituant genera, vocales vero quae intra easdem consonas inseri possunt, exhibeant species. Hinc ex. gr. ⲙⲧ est genus, sub quo quaeres species ⲙⲁⲟⲩⲧ, ⲙⲁⲧⲁⲧ, ⲙⲉⲧ, ⲙⲉⲩⲧ, ⲙⲏⲧ, ⲙⲓⲧ, ⲙⲟⲉⲓⲧ, et similia, servato ordine alphabetico vocalium inter ⲙ et ⲧ insertarum.

Utraque methodus etymologica radicum, et Semitica neglectarum vocalium, commodam mihi obtulit trium dialectorum, Sahidicae, Memphiticae, et Basmuricae coniunctionem, quarum varietas saepe in solis variatis vocalibus est posita. Omnino enim coniungendae mihi videbantur in uno eodemque Lexico. Ita communis earum origo vel oculis legentium subiiciebatur; linguae historia et indoles ex perpetua dialectorum comparatione ultro emicabat; radicum significatio triplici auctoritate vel confirmabatur, vel magis magisque evolvi poterat; studiosus uni dialecto dans operam simul assuescit reliquis duabus aestimandis; tandem hac fusione consultum ibam utilitati philologorum, qui hieroglyphica tractabunt. Enimvero, quemadmodum Homerum enarraturus magis proficies eo lexico, quod graecas dialectos coniunctas exhibeat, quam illo, quod discretas in quatuor fasciculis exponat; ita Pharaonum sermonem nondum, uti augurari licet, in dialectos divisum rectius aestimabis, si lexico utaris, quod tres Copticas dialectos grammatico foedere consociet. Ne tamen confunderentur dialecti, post enunciatas vel radices, vel voces derivatas, addidi siglas T. M. B., quae notant cuinam dialecto, Thebanae ne, vel Memphiticae, aut Basmuricae vocabulum illud sit accensendum.

Post siglas dialectorum indices sequuntur significationes; primas ac proprias praemisi derivatis, aut translatis, ut cuiusque vocabuli quandam quasi historiam exhiberem. Quamquam, ut verum fatear, rarae sunt radices, quae multis ac dissimilibus luxurient notionibus; quod novo argumento evincit Copticum sermonem non poëtarum quidlibet audentium ingenio crevisse, quemadmodum de Arabico constat, in quo tanta est notionum secum adversantium luxuries, ut in iis conciliandis, dixerim etiam per vim cuneandis, laborent lexicographi. Significationes radicum Copticarum perpaucae sunt, secumque connexae; ergo linguae incrementa debentur severis geometris, qui humilis prosae orationis fines haud excesserunt.

Si varia, vel singularis esset verbi constructio, diligens monui, adductis etiam exemplis. Neque enim erat, cur activa verba construi solita cum accusativo docerem cum quarto casu coniungenda esse, aut verba cum † dare composita adnotarem cum dativo esse consocianda.

Singulas notiones idoneis auctoritatibus confirmavi; ex multis vero a me adnotatis in adversariis meis illas selegi, quae essent certissimae, nominis genus adiunctum haberent, aut verbi construendi modum. Integros textus in medium protuli, quoties aut clariora constructionis exempla exhibenda videbantur, vel vox paullo rarior in suo, quo iacebat, contextu esset exponenda. Quorsum enim libri molem auxissem longas librorum editorum auctoritates adducens? Si vox, si genus, si constructio, si notiones, et similia certa atque explorata sunt, tum confirmata ex indicatis librorum locis, curnam copiam affectassem in re apertissima?

Tandem quoties radix ad unam tantum dialectum pertinebat adnotavi stirpem, quae in reliquis duabus dialectis ei respondebat; quandoque etiam addidi radices affines, quas fortasse aliquis suspicari posset esse derivatas.

Coptici libri, seu typis, seu manu descripti, quorum ego vocabula collegi, atque indicem mox dabo, abunde testantur quantopere contenderim, ut lexicon omnem Coptici sermonis amplitudinem complecteretur. Editos libros blandior mihi omnes ad unum habuisse. Ex codicibus Taurinenses omnes legi, tum Parisienses qui aliquem verborum proventum polliceri videbantur. Si qui vero sunt qui iudicent a me lexicon prius edendum non fuisse, quam codices etiam Oxonienses et Vaticanos excussissem, iis ego repono, saepe nos meliora, aut optima, anxie consectantes perdere iam parta bona. Grande Jobaeae patientiae documentum dederam decenni opera eos libros syllabatim legens, quos nulla stili amoenitas, aut rerum peregrinitas commendabat; quod si duo longa ac contraria itinera suscipere debuissem, ut veterem molestiam nova cumularem, vereor, ne post vires exhaustas in congerenda materia, nullae mihi superessent in ea digerenda. Praeterea codex meus assidua manu pervolutatus in frusta abibat, tum schedae inter pagellas insertae facile conturbabantur atque avolabant; codicem igitur male mulcatum novo multorum mensium taedio debuissem ex integro describere, ut liber existeret, quem citra periculum tractare possem. Quorsum vero tanta taedia, itinera, ac pericula pertinuissent? Ut domum redirem cum sterili messe; neque enim augurabar me multas voces esse collecturum. Et sane nullus Oxonii, aut Romae codex Basmuricus servatur, qui lucem non viderit; maximam partem Memphitici sunt, pauci Sahidici. Porro Memphitici sive quia recentiores sunt, sive quia Memphis prope abest a Delta graece loquente, multis scatent graecis vocabulis, maxime ubi vegetantia, animalia, utensilia, suppellex et similia communis vitae sunt nominanda. Quod vero attinet ad ceteras voces, tot Memphiticos textus excussi, ut in postremo a me lecto vix aliquot addendas voculas invenerim, atque augurer reliquos mihi invisitatos non multam spem facere inauditorum vocabulorum. Codices Sahidicos, fateor enim, maxime percuperem, quippequi parce utuntur graecis vocibus, et semper novi aliquid mihi obtulerunt; verum habui septem Taurinenses, qui mihi multorum Parisiensium Memphiticorum instar sunt, habui Zoëgam, aliosque, ut Thebanae dialecto multam lucem attulisse credam.

Quae mihi in Lexico concinnando constituta fuerint hucusque disserui; an quod volui assecutus sim nescio, seu potius infra scopum mihi propositum substitisse maxime dubito. Quis enim adeo sibi blandiatur, ut se numquam errasse neget, aut optimam ideam mente praeconceptam revera expressisse credat? Quod si nonnulli vocem aliquam derivatam a me omissam adnotaverint, vel, novis opibus Copticis inventis, nova vocabula addenda repererint, ii meminerint facile esse inventis addere.

LIBRI VETERIS TESTAMENTI

Quinque libri Moysis prophetae in lingua Ægyptiaca, descripsit ac latine vertit David Wilkins. Londini 1731. Dialectus est Memphitica. — Gen. Exod. Levit Num. Deut.

Psalmi Davidis Coptice et Arabice. Romae 1744. Ad usum Ecclesiae Copticae edidit Tukius non sine operarum mendis. Dialectus est Memphitica. — Psal.

Praecedenti Psalmorum editioni accedunt in fine Cantica Mosis, Annae, Ezechiae, Manassis, Jonae, aliorumque, quae omnia sum complexus sigla Psalt., seu Psalterii, cuius paginae citantur. Dialectus est Memphitica. — Psalt.

Proverbia Salomonis, vide infra ad Papyrum VII. — Prov.

Sapientia Salomonis. Codex membranaceus Taurinensis antiquissimus, paucis scatens lacunis; libri versiculi sunt 1064, quos citavi. Dialectus est Sahidica. — Sap.

Sapientia Siracidis, quae in praecedenti codice Taurinensi servatur. Primi quaterniones male mulcati frequentes habent lacunas. Citavi capita, et versiculos, ad fidem Graecae editionis Romanae. Dialectus est Sahidica. — Sir.

Ezechielis Prophetae liber. Codex Memphiticus in R. Bibliotheca Parisiensi asservatus. — Ezech.

Specimen versionum Daniclis Copticarum, Nonum eius caput Memphitice et Sahidice exhibens, edidit Frid. Munter. Romae 1786. Vir Coptice non bene doctus menda admisit. — Dan.

Tandem librorum Josue, Judicum, Regum, aliorumque multa fragmenta Memphitica, lectionum instar ecclesiasticarum, habentur in sex voluminibus liturgicis Romae editis annis 1736-61-62-63 ad usum Ecclesiae Copticae, quae continent Rituale, Euchologium, Anaphoras, aliaque eiusmodi Coptice, et Arabice. Biblicas lectiones omnes perlegi, earumque vocabula excerpsi; non item preces quotquot exhibent sex volumina. Praeterquamquod enim tot occurrunt graeca vocabula, ut quandoque graece legere crederes, Copticae voces usque eaedem recurrunt, quippe eaedem ideae seu precantis, seu deprecantis, paucis mutatis, semper enunciantur. Quare contentus complures pagellas in singulis voluminibus perlustrasse, quae vix aliquem proventum tulerunt, ceteras neglexi. Caveant vero tyrones a multis typothetarum mendis facile obviis hisce in voluminibus.

LIBRI NOVI TESTAMENTI

Matth. Marc. Luc. Joh. etc. Novum Testamentum Ægyptium, vulgo Copticum, descripsit, et in latinum sermonem convertit David Wilkins. Oxonii 1716. Dialectus est Memphitica.

Matth. Marc. Luc. Joh. Act. Rom. etc. Appendix ad editionem Novi Test. Graeci ... a Carolo Woide descripti, in qua continentur Fragmenta Novi Testamenti ... Thebaica, vel Sahidica, cum Dissertatione de Versione Bibliorum Ægyptiaca. Oxonii 1799. Librorum citationes semper accentu imposito distinguuntur, ne cum illis Memphiticis confundantur.

Hisce Fragmentis Sahidicis addenda sunt — 1.° nonnulla Capitula Evangelii Marci, quae Mingarellius vulgavit in tertio fasciculo, cui titulus Ægyptiorum Codicum reliquiae Venetiis in bibliotheca Naniana asservatae; huius fasciculi editionem auctor morte praereptus absolvere nequivit. — 2.° Munteri Commentatio de indole versionis Novi Testamenti Sahidicae. Accedunt fragmenta Epistolarum Pauli ad Timotheum. Hafniae 1789. — Alia Sahidica fragmenta, quae huc revocari possent, edita a Georgio, Mingarellio, aliisque, citantur aliis siglis Frag. Ming. etc., quas vide.

ALII LIBRI

B. Basmurice, seu Basmurica vox.

Cod. Par. 44. et 43. Codex R. Parisiensis bibliothecae n.° 44. distinctus, bombycineus, foliorum 190. Continet Scalam (vide infra ad siglam Kir.) Sahidicam, in qua selectae voces, saepe etiam phrases, Veteris et Novi Testamenti Thebani, et librorum liturgicorum, illustrantur vocibus et phrasibus Arabicis; non raro additur graeca vox copticis litteris scripta. — Codex 43. eiusdem bibliothecae minorem Scalam, plerumque Memphiticam, exhibet.

Fragm. Fragmentum Evangelii S. Johannis Graeco-Copto-Thebaicum, opera Georgii. Romae 1789. Citantur pagellae libri, qui alia multa Coptica complectitur.

Kir. Kircherii Lingua Ægyptiaca restituta. Romae 1643. Praeter alia edita est Scala Magna, hoc est Nomenclator Ægyptiaco-Arabicus cum interpretatione latina. Scalae dicuntur glossaria Copto-Arabica, in quibus Copticae voces, et quandoque phrases, Arabicis vocibus et phrasibus redduntur. Nam, antiquato

Coptico idiomate, Ægyptii Monachi, qui sacros libros et liturgias Coptice legebant, censuerunt, ut indoctis fratribus consulerent, glossaria difficiliorum vocum et dictionum esse concinnanda. Eiusmodi Scalae maiores, vel minores, frequentes offenduntur in bibliothecis; omnes in eo consentiunt, quod mendis scatent, maxime si apographa sint. Kircherus duas edidit Scalas; codicis Vaticani erroribus addenda sunt sphalmata operarum, et quandoque praepostera latina versio interpretis, quae facile condonanda est philologo, qui primus incognitam linguam illustrabat. At omnino improbanda est eius audacia, dum proprio marte vocabula codici ignota in editionem intrusit, qua de re lege Quatremere Recherches sur la langue et la litterature d'Egypte p. 53. Scalam magnam citans saepe emendavi errata codicis, vel editoris; quandoque vero, cum nulla mihi succurreret probabilis lectio, textum exscripsi cum Arabica glossa, praesertim ubi Arabicae voces vel perperam redditae essent, vel inauditae. Libri longe rarissimi exemplar debeo humanitati J. Klaproth Viri cl. cuius singularem Orientalium linguarum doctrinam miramur omnes.

Lexicon Ægyptiaco-Latinum collectum a Maturino Veyssiere La-Croze. Oxonii 1775. Citantur pagellae libri. — La Croze

Memphitice, seu Memphitica vox. — M.

Ægyptiorum Codicum Reliquiae Venetiis in bibliotheca Naniana asservatae. Fasciculus I. et II. Bononiae 1785. De Fasciculo tertio vide quae dixi supra ad Fragmenta Novi Testamenti Sahidica. — Ming.

Notices et Extraits des Manuscrits de la bibliothèque Imperiale. Paris 1810. Volumen octavum pag. 220 exhibet Daniel et les douze petits Prophètes, Manuscrits Coptes, par E. Quatremere. — Not.

De Miraculis S. Coluthi, et reliquiis actorum S. Panesniv Martyrum Thebaica fragmenta . . . opera Antonii Georgii. Romae 1793. Alia multa Coptica fragmenta passim in adnotationibus edita leguntur. — Pan.

Papyrus Primus Taurinensis, foliorum 63, tenet 1.° Martyrium S. Ignatii Antiochiae Episcopi spurium, et fabellis scatens; praeter cetera absurda, refert longos sermones, qui Ignatium inter et Traianum Romae intercesserunt, tum varia tormentorum genera, quibus Imperator Martyris constantiam vincere ante extremum supplicium confidebat. Nihil tale habent eius acta sincera a Cottelerio (Patres Apostolici) edita; constat enim Traianum post Parthicam expeditionem numquam Romam rediisse. — 2.° Martyrium S. Gioore (ⲅⲱⲱⲣⲉ) pastoris ovium, ex vico Gingeb (ⲅⲓⲛⲅⲏⲃ) die XV Choiac. — 3.° Historiam, seu potius fabulam virginis Eudoxiae Imperatoris Constantini sororis, quae, post Persas a fratre devictos, Hierosolymam contendit ad sacra loca instauranda simulque ornanda; ibi fratrem suasit, ut persecutionem in Judaeos moveret, nisi baptismum susciperent; haec vero contigerunt anno 365. post Christi resurrectionem. — Pap. I.

Hic, aliique infra describendi Papyri in arca constipati ad nos ab Ægypto delati sunt, quam cum ego aperuissem, infandam vidi ac deploravi Papyrorum cladem. Maxima usus patientia in tractandis fragilibus foliis volumina quaeque, seu potius diversorum voluminum fragmenta collegi, distinxi; quae subinde ab accurata manu agglutinata fuerunt supra chartam maxime tenuem ac pellucidam. Papyri omnes Sahidici sunt.

Pap. II. Papyrus Secundus Taurinensis, foliorum 54. Exhibet Hypomnemata (Acta) Servatoris conscripta sub Pontio Pilato Praeside, quo nomine venit Evangelium Nicodemi saepe editum, tum non ita pridem vulgatum a Carolo Thilo Codex Apocryphus Novi Testamenti. Lipsiae 1832. vol. 1. pag. 490 sq. Thebanus textus multis graecis vocibus scatens graecam redolet originem; variantes frequentes sunt.

Pap. III. Papyrus Tertius Taurinensis. Tenet Sermonem in Johannem Baptistam, cuius res gestae fuse narrantur. — Vitam Apae Aphu (ⲁⲫⲟⲩ) Anachoretae, et Episcopi urbis Pemge, ad diem XXI. mensis Thoth. — Martyrium Sanctae Heraei (ϩⲏⲣⲁⲉⲓ) — Historiam de Archiepiscopo Apa Theophilo — aliaque.

Pap. IV. Papyrus Quartus Taurinensis, foliorum 95. Continet Sermones morales, Sententias Synodi Nicaenae, tum Vitam Athanasii spuriam.

Pap. V. Papyrus Quintus Taurinensis, foliorum 49. Tenet Vitam S. Hilarionis, quae plane consentit cum illa, quae Hieronymo auctori tributa edita est in eius operibus tom. II. pag. 14. ed. Venetae 1767. Excipe tamen, quod nostra Epistolae, vel Allocutionis ad Fratres speciem praesefert, nam interdum haec phrasis occurrit Vobis, dilecti fratres, aliud miraculum referam; fusior etiam est in nonnullis, minimis tamen, adiunctis persequendis. Graecis vocibus interspersa translata fuit a graeca versione Sophronii, de qua lege Maurinos Patres in Admonitione in vitas Pauli, Hilarionis, et Malchi.

Pap. VI. Papyrus Sextus Taurinensis. Tenet Sermones morales, tum Martyrium S. Ptolemaei ad diem XI. Choiak, passus hic est anno 20. Diocletiani.

Pap. VII. Papyrus Septimus Taurinensis. Tenet lacinias Papyrorum varii generis, ex quibus unus complectebatur librum Proverbiorum, cuius pauca fragmenta supersunt.

Q. Recherches Critiques et Historiques sur la langue et la litterature de l'Egypte par E. Quatremere. Paris 1808. Inserta leguntur fragmenta Basmurica in Parisiensi bibliotheca asservata.

Rossi Ignatii Rossi Etymologiae Ægyptiacae. Romae 1808. Utilem navavit operam Ignatius Rossi ea vocabula recensendo, quae Copti ex Perside aut Arabia evidenter sunt mutuati; optime etiam meruit quoties Copticarum vocum compositarum etyma in lingua ipsa Coptica perquisivit, quandoque etiam feliciter Copticas cum Hebraicis radicibus comparavit; at vereor, ne intemperantior fuerit in urgendis affinitatibus linguae Copticae cum dialectis Semiticis; tot permutat, addit, demit litteras, ut etiam cum Sinensi sermone comparationem instituere potuerit.

T. Thebaice, seu vox Thebaica, vel, si mavis, Sahidica.

Tuk. Rudimenta linguae Coptae sive Ægyptiacae, auctore Raphaele Tuki. Romae 1778. Multa ibi citantur loca seu Veteris seu Novi Foederis Thebaice et Memphitice; frequentia occurrunt menda cum auctoris non bene in lingua Coptica versati, tum operarum.

Catalogus Codicum Copticorum manuscriptorum, qui in Museo Borgiano Velitris adservantur, auctore Georgio Zoega. Romae 1810. Liber constat pagellis 659. A pag. 1 ad 138 sunt codices Memphitici; a pag. 139 ad 168 codices Basmurici; a pag. 169 ad finem codices Sahidici. Editor Coptice doctissimus complures codices Sahidicos suis adnotationibus illustravit, quin tamen versionem latinam subiungeret, uti in Memphiticis fecerat. Qui Zoegae librum syllabatim non legerit, frustra ille confidet se posse Copticum lexicon concinnare; at lectio integrum saltem biennium requirit. Eosdem codices Basmuricos rectius legit, atque edidit Engelbreth in opere, cui titulum fecit: Fragmenta Basmurico-Coptica Veteris et Novi Testamenti, quae in Museo Borgiano Velitris asservantur. Havniae 1811. Z.
